ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Drawing on decades of experience, Harris and Molina present a compelling vision and proven model of redemptive justice for young offenders, grounded in faith and action.

Greg Harris

Executive Director, Counteract International

Greg Harris is executive director of Counteract International. He previously served in senior leadership at the U.S. Department of Justice, including as deputy administrator of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention and chief of staff at the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives. Earlier in his career, he was press secretary to U.S. Sen. John Ashcroft of Missouri. Harris is a graduate of George Mason University and Illinois State University and lives in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Francisco Molina

Regional Director for Central America, Counteract

Francisco “Pancho” Molina is regional director for Central America at Counteract International. He previously served in Guatemala’s presidential cabinet as secretary of the Department of Social Welfare and as deputy secretary for juvenile justice, where he led nationally recognized detention center reforms. He also served as president of Guatemala’s National Adoption Council and as a crime prevention adviser to the Presidential Commission for Police Reform. Molina is the author of Contra Todo Pronostico (Against All Odds) and holds degrees in psychology and public administration. He lives in Guatemala City.
